

Strode's Sausage and Scrapple Philip Price Jr. (about 1937-2018) and Joseph W Strode III

In 1784 the Strode family purchased the Entriken's mill property at the Birmingham and Lenape crossroads. In 1875 the serpentine portion of the barn associated with the mill was erected and A. Darlington Strode established the Strode Sausage and Scrapple factory in the barn adjacent to the mill. Initially serving villagers of the crossroads, Strode Scrapple became nationally well-known and was sold at Reading Terminal in Philadelphia. The scrapple was canned and was easily shipped all over the United States. The factory produced sausage and scrapple for a century. The property is now owned by East Bradford Township which is in the process of stabilization and restoration of the barn.

"Strode's Sausage & Scrapple Plant", 998 Lenape Road. Historic Resource # 139, photograph courtesy of Friends of Strode's Mill

Joe Strode's father, Phil Price and another member of the Strode family were partners in Strode Sausage and Scrapple.

Photograph courtesy of Friends of Strode's Mill

At the beginning of the interview, there is a discussion of Phil Price's family settling Fox Hill Farm, pictured here, which is at 955 Lenape Road

"Jonathan Paxson Farm/Fox Hill Farm". Historic Resource #136, photograph from East Bradford Township Historical Commission files

Strode's Mill, which is also at the intersection of Lenape Road and Birmingham Road, is pictured here:

"Entriken/Strode's Mill". Historic Resource #140, photograph from East Bradford Historical Commission files